New Year's

by: Devlin Harris, Da'coya Mckay, Emilia Arellano, and Marcela Luna

Happy New Year! It's finally 2018! What did you do on New Years Eve? Here are a few things people did on New Years Eve. Yolanda went to her cousin's house and had a party. On New Year's day, she went to Bananas. Then we found out Brianna said " I went to my cousins house". On New Years day, she partied with her family. Last, Mercedes said "I went to my grandma's house, on New Years Eve". She said on New Years Day "I just watched T.V. with my family". Then we asked some people their resolutions. Mercedes said "I want to keep my room clean". Even Mrs. Wade had a resolution, she wants to talk to her mom on the phone every other day. Have a good New Year and stick to your resolution. (if you have one). By the way everyone should have a resolution because you can get healthier and stronger.

Revisiting Our School Expectations

by: Dominick Weeks, Dalilah Bloss, and Diego Villa-Valenzuela

Following expectations can be hard, fun, and easy or maybe even boring. But before you do anything or say anything I will tell you something. YOU OF ALL PEOPLE should be following expectations. Ok you can read on now. Being caring for example can be hard if your mean. Hopefully your not. Also being caring is fun because you can have lots of friends.

Being honest is when you tell the truth no matter what even if you don't want to. Being a learner is like always learning and staying focused. Lots of people like expectations for example, Jordan likes being caring because she likes being nice to people. Vivianne likes being a learner because she likes learning. Joseangel likes being caring because he likes being nice to people and finally yolanda likes being honest because she likes to tell the truth.

Martin Luther King Jr. Day

by: Elizabeth McKay, Zoey Smith , and Courtney Davis

There was once a man . He had a dream. It was to make life better. For instance people can be treated equal and never get judged by their color. He wanted America to be free from bad people and bring hope and healing to the world. This man's name was Martin Luther King Jr.

Martin Luther King Jr. was known as a man of freedom. So what i'm saying is he wanted everyone to feel love instead of hate. Martin Luther King Jr. put all he had into America. Martin Luther King wanted to stay positive for everything.

Have you ever thought of what life was like before Martin Luther King said something well let me tell you about it, it was not pretty. African Americans were not aloud to go to schools with the white and some others too, like parks, theaters, hotels, eating places, and they had different places in the bus and that still It did not look good. So Martin said something he didn't just say it he dreamed then he said it. He didn't care if they beat him he, didn't care if he went to jail, he just wanted peace and for love. He thought it wasn't a good life to live in with segregation. So he did something he went up on a platform and said a speech. He talked and talked how he wanted peace , how he wanted the black and the white to come together and hold hands and just be friends. That was Martin's dream. That was all of our dreams and it came true

4th Grade Cross-Country Skiing Field Trip

by: Lydia Adcock, Rian Hinden, Raychel Wilmot, and D'Mario Hopkins

Have you ever been cross country skiing at the Grand Mesa? Well the fourth grade went cross country skiing on January 18th.

Some people don't know what cross country skiing is, cross country skiing is a type of running but you have poles and skis. When you are cross country skiing you don't go downhill you go on flat land. You have to take very small steps or you will fall and maybe get stuck. If you do fall you have to put both knees on you skis and try to get up. When you take a step you have to slide a little bit then you will be cross country skiing.

Something fun that happened is we all got hot cocoa. It was also fun when we all went fast.

important expectation because if your not safe you or others can get hurt. You have to be safe to get a gotcha. You can also be nice to other people while being safe because your not hurting them.

We've just talked about every expectation that Rocky Mountain Elementary has.

Staying Safe During Winter

by: Janayah Alvarado, Cadence Harris, and Brennon Gladstone

Do you know what you need for winter? Well this article is going to tell you what and how the ranger said to be warm and safe for the winter. We hope you like and enjoy this article. How to dress like an onion in three easy steps...Base layer: The base layer needs to touch your skin. Wear a tight fitting layer. Dont wear cotton it will get wet and make you cold. Middle layer: the middle layer keeps your body warm inside your clothing and prevents it from escaping. The middle layer also pulls sweat away to keep you dry. NO JEANS AT ALL!!!! Outer layer: the outer layer blocks wind, wear a coat with a hood (to keep your neck warm) ,waterproof snow pants, and boots with a waterproof foot and a warm lining. if you want your gloves warm I suggest that you put hand warmers in your gloves.

I hope that our safety tip helped you next time when you go cross country skiing. I hope that you liked this article.

all because of Martin Luther King Jr.

Have you ever thought of who Martin Luther King was. well we will tell you. Martin was 28 when he decided to stop racism and spread equality. Martin Luther King Jr was born January 15, 1929 and he was a good man with a big dream. Also his dream inspired Ms. Alldredge to be kinder. Bullying has the same effect as racism, so don't judge a book by its cover. But sadly Martins journey came to an end In April 1968. He died at the age of 39 but we all know that he will always be a good man that felt racism was wrong. And sadly this article has to come to an end but we still will always remember that Martin Luther King Jr was a man that was brave enough to speak up and inspire many people.
